Sidewalk Project Would Remove 23 Shawsheen Trees

By Frank Messina

A hearing to decide the fate of 23 trees lining York Street in Shawsheen Square will be held Monday.

The trees would make way for new sidewalks, curbs and street paving proposed as part of a $750,000 Community Development Action Grant project for the Shawsheen area.

York Street residents are questioning the need to uproot the trees. "Is it absolutely necessary that they go?" asked Victoria Robb, 36 York St. "I would much rather have the trees than new sidewalks."

Town officials point out that street renovations are badly needed, especially with Marshalls department stores recently moving their corporate headquarters, along with some 850 employees, to the old American Woolen Mill site on York Street. The Shawsheen Mills buildings were also once the home for Raytheon Co. prior to construction of its new West And-over buildings.

The sidewalks are deeply cracked in some places and the curbs are only 1 inch high, compared to the standard 6 inches. Besides repaving, the street work would also improve drainage along the road-way.

James Bamford, the town forestry official who will run the 2 p.m. hearing in town hall offices, has read a report from an engineering consultant hired for the CDAG project, but says he isn't certain the trees need to be replaced.

"I'm never convinced it is necessary to

Auditor's Ruling Allows Town To Challenge Insurance Provision

By Frank Messina

Andover could save over $21,000 if it chooses to challenge a state Universal Health Care Law provision requiring municipalities to contribute to a medical insurance pool for the unemployed.

The proviso goes against a Proposition 2½ mandate that compels the state to fully fund new laws without passing any major costs onto towns and cities, State Auditor A. Joseph DeNucci ruled last week.

"Most cities and towns in the state are struggling under extremely tight fiscal restrictions," said Mr. DeNucci. "This is no time to require cities and towns to spend funds they do not have. The local mandate statute was enacted to prevent precisely this type of fiscal imposition."

When Proposition 2½ limited property tax revenues, steps were taken to make sure municipalities wouldn't bear addional financial burdens from new state laws.

Mr. DeNucci's ruling means municipalities are free to contest the health law mandate in court.

However, Town Manager Kenneth Mahony said suing the state would be a waste of time and money.

"We're not going to spend $20,000 (in legal fees) to collect $20,000," he said.

He did not rule out the town participating if a consortium of municipalities took a class action case to court.

The state requirement was originally opposed by Boston, which would be forced to contribute $368,000 to the insurance pool.

Although cities and towns can now challenge the mandate, private employers will still be required to pay into the pool.

Asbestos Removal Plan Has $2.16 Million Pricetag

By Lisa A. Boudreau

It will cost the School Committee an estimated $2.16 million to comply with a federal regulation banning asbestos from school buildings.

The Asbestos Hazard Emergency Response Act requires every public and private school to identify asbestos-containing materials and submit a management plan to its state governor's office outlining plans to control or eliminate the potential for exposure to asbestos fibers, which have been linked to cancer and other diseases.

Compiled by Hall-Kimbrell Environmental Services Inc., And-over's plan reviews surveys identifying asbestos in the town's eight schools. In addition to the overall management plan, each

Performs At Kennedy Center

Shorey Walker

Shorey Walker, daughter of Josie Walker of Andover, performed with Fred Waring's U.S. Chorus in the Concert Hall of the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington, D.C. on July 25.

Becoming a part of "America's Signature Singing Group" is extremely competitive. Just 100 singers are chosen from audition tapes and portfolios submitted from all over the country.

Being chosen means the opportunity to study for 13 days at Penn State on full scholarship with top choral, choreography and television professionals under the artistic direction of Virginia Waring (Mrs. Fred Waring) and to tour.

Ms. Walker is a dean's list student at the University of Miami, majoring in musical theater. She performed in musical productions throughout high school and has choreographed high school and church productions. Ms. Walker has appeared in Andover Community Theater Children's productions and is a member of Jelly Beans, a Merrimack Valley children's performing group. She has attended the Boston University Summer Theater Institute, Bradford College Summer Theater Program and Stagedoor Manor in New York.

The U.S. Chorus represents the fulfillment of Fred Waring's dream: to select the best young singers in the country, train them in the most innovative performance techniques and share their talents with audiences nationwide.

The chorus sang in a July 23 concert-for-television in Eisenhower Auditorium on the University Park campus of Penn State. The videotape special will be produced by WPSX-TV/Penn State to air this fall on public television stations nationwide.

Graduates From Navy School

Navy Seaman Robert C. Salisbury, son of George and Jean Giles, 29 Rattle Snake Road, Andover, has graduated from Operations Specialist School.

During the 15-week course conducted at Fleet Combat Training Center Dam Neck, Virginia Beach, Va., he received instructions on the operations of surveillance and search radars, electronic recognition and identification equipment, aircraft approach control devices and electronic aids to navigation. His studies were designed to prepare him for duty in a shipboard combat information center or at a shorebased fleet training center.

Seaman Salisbury, a 1985 graduate of Andover High School, joined the Navy in November 1988.

Named To Dean's List

Several area residents were named to the dean's list at Northeastern University in Boston for the spring quarter.

They include engineering students Peter Devney of 11 Longwood Drive, Susan Fortune of 30 Juniper Road, Andrew P. Murphy of 3 Winchester Drive and Paul W. Salvi of 11 York St. Other dean's list students from Andover are Loretta Gonsalves of 181 Jenkins Road, who is studying business administration, and Karen Sofia of 29 Gray Road, who is engineering student, also made the list.

rolled in Northeastern's College of Arts and Sciences.

Glenn P. Wyllie of 5 Stacy Drive in North Andover, an engineering technology student, also made the list. These students have a quality point average of 3.0 or higher out of a possible 4.0 and have no grade lower than a C.

TOWN HOUSE TOPICS

Planners Could Take Bond

The Planning Board could take a $40,000 bond from a local developer to finish street work on the Orchard Crossing subdivision at a public hearing Sept. 12.

Residents have complained that developer John Magee has long promised to build sidewalks, but so far, hasn't even begun survey work. The board also expressed exasperation at Mr. Magee, who, although invited, wasn't present at Tuesday night's meeting.

"We've been going round and round on this," said board member Russ Moran. "He assured us the work would be done."

Town Physical Planner Steve Colyer said Mr. Magee told him last month that surveying would begin in early July.

"I gave him the benefit of the doubt," said Mr. Colyer, but as of Tuesday morning, there was "no evidence of anything being done."

If the board decides to take the bond, the town would contract to complete the paving.

Superior Court Bans Club From Advertising Restaurant

A Superior Court judge refused last week to allow the Andover Country Club to advertise its in-house restaurant to the public.

In a ruling handed down last month in Salem, Judge Peter Brady denied an injunction sought by Yvon Cormier, owner of Trumpeter's restaurant and the private country club.

The decision upholds an Andover Zoning Board of Appeals ruling last May that bans Mr. Cormier from advertising for customers for the restaurant, as well as the country club's hotel and banquet facilities.

Mr. Cormier is expected to appeal Judge Brady's decision.

The country club will still be open to its members.

Art Applications Available

Applications for Andover's Art in the Park are now being accepted. The 15th annual fine art exhibit and sale, jointly sponsored by the Andovers Artists Guild and the town's Department of Community Services, will be held Sept. 16 in the Park.

Applications may be picked up at DCS, or write to Andover Art in the Park, 31 Salem St., Andover. Categories for entry are watercolors, oils, acrylics, pastels, graphics and drawings, photography and sculpture. Crafts are not included.

New Planner Joins Board

An empty Planning Board seat was filled Monday night by the Board of Selectmen.

Hooks Johnston, Jr. of 26 Morton St. was confirmed by the board unanimously.

His confirmation was delayed when board members at their July 10 meeting decided they didn't have enough background information.

Mr. Johnston is a former Andover Conservation commissioner and served as a Zoning Board of Appeals member in Glastonbury, Conn.

A town resident since 1980, Mr. Johnston replaces Michael Houghton on the Planning Board.

Dr. Seifert Honored For Service

Superintendent of Schools Kenneth R. Seifert was honored with a 20-year service award at the annual meeting of the Massachusetts Association of School Superintendents.

Dr. Seifert received the award for his years of "outstanding service and leadership in the demanding and challenging positions of school superintendent," said Peter R. Finn, the association's executive director.

Dr. Seifert received the recognition and commendation of over 200 fellow superintendents who were at the meeting.

Business Park Planned

A $100 million business park is being planned for the Lowell Junction area of Andover, a developer has announced.

The R.J. Kelley Corp. finalized a deal with Gillette this week for 47 acres near the Andover/Tewksbury/Wilmington borders that will allow the business park to be built near a planned MBTA commuter rail station.

The business complex, which company representatives say will break ground next spring, tentatively will include several office buildings and restaurants.

Company president R.J. Kelley

has indicated the exact scope of the project will depend on market conditions at the time of construction. However, he anticipates that the complex's proximity to the train station and Route 93 will be a drawing card for Boston area-firms.

Mr. Kelley, who has owned several acres in the area since 1981, has long planned to develop in West Andover. He recently won an approval for an extension of Burtt Road to allow access to the property.

The Burtt Road extension will divert traffic from the Ballardvale area of town, permitting traffic to circulate directly from Route 93.

Trees

take out trees that will live many more years," he said.

Town Manager Kenneth Mahony will make the final decision based in part on Mr. Bamford's recommendations.

The trees are mostly 15- to 24-foot Norway maples planted some 70 years ago as part of former American Mill President William Wood's social experiment to create a planned corporate community for his mill workers.

Some of the trees are dead, and Mr. Mahony sees the need to "get in there and start interplanting."

However, residents say removing all the trees at once would have a dramatic affect on the quality of life on York Street.

The trees provide a noise and sight buffer to the traffic leaving Brickstone Properties, where Marshalls is headquartered, said Mrs. Robb.

"The heat and traffic noise has gone up" since Marshalls moved in, she said. Without the trees, "it would be unbearable."

She wishes people could sit on her front porch during a summer heat wave when employees get off work "and try to imagine what it would be like without the trees."

And besides, Mrs. Robb adds, "It almost seems like (the trees are) part of the family."

school has its own individual plan.

Hall-Kimbrell recommends removing the asbestos in phases. The stages will be ordered on the basis of exposure to students and teachers, taking into account such factors as location, accessibility, condition, asbestos content and the nature of the material containing it.

Almost all American school buildings built before the late '70s contain some asbestos in pipe insulation and structural fireproofing. Asbestos was also used extensively in building materials in the past because of its insulating and fire-retarding capabilities.

The materials requiring removal are generally located in mechanical areas not readily accessible to building occupants or students, says Lee Winchell, Andover asbestos coordinator. Mr. Winchell's primary concern is when these materials begin to deteriorate or become damaged, releasing microscopic asbestos fibers into the air where they can be inhaled.

The plan also provides school custodians with training on identifying the different types of asbestos and avoiding disturbing the hazardous materials during routine maintenance. The training will be conducted in each school until the asbestos-contaminated materials and the exposure potentials are diminished or eliminated, said Mr. Winchell.

Asbestos removal is underway at Bancroft and Sanborn elementary schools and at both middle schools, he said.

A public meeting, at a time yet to be announced, will be held to introduce the management plan and answer questions.

Appointed Project Director

Caren M. Ponty

Caren M. Ponty was appointed project manager of the Community Builders in Boston, among the largest creators of affordable housing.

Ms. Ponty joins a professional development staff of 20 who work with community-based, non-profit organizations to produce more than 1,000 housing units for low- and moderate-income people each year. She will oversee several developments, including one for families in Fitchburg and another for the elderly and disabled in New Bedford.

Ms. Ponty previously worked at the city of New York's Department of Housing Preservation and Development. Most recently, she was director of project management and executive assistant to former Commissioner Paul A. Crotty. She played an integral role in initiating innovative management services to lower income tenants in city-managed property, said Shirley Selhub, Community Builders spokesman.

those afflicted and their families endure as a direct result of their diseases.

"The effort is kind of fun, too. It requires about 1,000 miles of pre-event training which helps me maintain some level of physical conditioning; I get to see things and to visit places on my bike that I might otherwise not know about; you meet some very interesting and committed people through biking; and once you get up the nerve to ask others to support your effort with a pledge, you'd be surprised at how understanding and cooperative people are. It seems that everyone has been touched by cancer in some way or another and there develops a real spirit of charity around that sentiment.

"The actual bike trip last year was a terrific experience," continues Mr. Lane. "There were about 30 of us riding and many were also new to such a long ride.

"There is an event for people of all ages and all athletic abilities. If you want to ride the two-day trip and have the time to put into training, that's fine. However, if you just have the time to do the 20 miles or the five-mile walk, that's also fine," Mr. Lane says. "The important thing is to participate and have a good time."

The Sports for Life Festival '89 will be held Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 16 and 17. For complete registration information, contact the Holy Family Hospital Foundation.

Columbia University in New York City, Ms. Ponty has an undergraduate degree from the University of Rochester and a master's degree in management from Brandeis University's Florence Heller School. She is a graduate of Phillips Academy.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard D. Ponty of Andover and the granddaughter of Beatrice Heifetz, also of Andover.

Snoopy At Bandstand

Snoopy and the Peanuts gang will come to the Andover bandstand Monday, July 31, at dusk when the Department of Community Services' movie program features Snoopy Come Home. The full-length animated motion picture featuring Charles Schultz's unique gallery of comic strip characters runs approximately 70 minutes. Should it rain, the film will be shown Tuesday evening. Next week's film is Rumpelstiltskin.

Mary Karl Is Back

Mary Karl and her band will perform in the Park on Wednesday, Aug. 2, at 6:30 p.m. The Boston-born entertainer delights audiences with music from the Big Band era of the 1930s and '40s.

Ms. Karl got her break in show business at age 11 with a dance and jump rope routine performed on roller skates. She gave up skating at age 17 to start a singing career that gave her exposure to the country's great jazz musicians and big bands.

Ms. Karl has appeared in several Hollywood movies and on the Boston stage during a career spanning more than 40 years.

If it rains on Wednesday, the concert will be held on Thursday evening.

Tanglewood Concert

Reserve seats now for a 2:30 p.m. concert at Tanglewood on Sunday, Aug. 13, featuring cellist YoYo Ma and the Boston Symphony Orchestra. The trip includes deluxe motorcoach and a post-concert dinner at the Log Cabin restaurant. At The Playgrounds Bancroft: This week's activities included shoe box dioramas and gingerbread houses that turned out to be easier to eat than to make. There was a trip to water country on Wednesday. Almost everybody braved the Gernonmo slide and left happy and sunburned. The game of bombardment with South School ended in a tie. Friday was another barbecue.

Sanborn: Splashing around at Water Country was great—except for the wicked sunburn. Jeff, Kristin, Jamie, Erin M., Shannon and Adam got awards either for their pjs or stuffed animals on "Come-as-You-Are Day."

South: Due to the rainy weather the bike trip to Bancroft was postponed and bombardment was played. Painting pictures was the major activity on Tuesday. Elizabeth and Zach Jonas were awesome painters. Wednesday was Water Country day: 23 went and had a fun time. The Hermosas, Sibells, Diana Marino, Jessica Sheniker, Brian Driscoll, Charlie Fixley and Sam Dadd had fun in the sun. Thursday was the rain date for the bike trip to Bancroft. South tied their playground in bombardment. Friday is cookout day.

West: West's creative artists started off the week with shoe box dioramas. Some budding Julia Childs made gingerbread houses. The best ones came from Camille Mongeau, Timmy Smith, Jamey Grieco and Katie Witman. Water Country was fun in the sun. It was a beautiful day, but there were some sunburns; Nicole Richter, Beth Cummins and Jenn. Pajama day was a rainy day so everyone snuggled down in blankets and watched The Princess Bride. Jessica Smith had the favorite bear, but Amy Wilkins and Robin Canavan came equipped with a family of bears from Santa Barbara. Chef Ed prepared himself with goggles to cook for the cookout.

Shee-Hee/Shaw-Nee: Week four started off with a bang. The children made paper plate masks on Monday. Some scary ones were made by Kristina Levis, Michael Muccio, Joshua Pisco and Joey Celemare. Lunch and sprinkler play in the sun was enjoyed on picnic day on Tuesday. Everyone shared a breakfast of doughnuts and juice on Wednesday. Allison Hartrich, Laurie Nelson, Alyssa Rosenblatt and Katie Rubino came dressed in pjs. Tye dye on Thursday created a great '60's atmosphere. Stephanie Movsesian, Jocelyn Drew, Jeffrey Gorrie and counselor Susan Wood all dressed as hippies. Bubbles and rock painting ended the week.

Ha-Kow-Wee: Due to rain, there was a pancake breakfast on Monday and a Walt Disney movie An American Tail. The weather cleared to make the field trip to Water Country sensational. There was a surprise bike trip, which led the KAMP-ers to Rose Glen Dairy for ice cream. There was tennis lessons on Tuesday and Thursday from Eszter Vajda, who will continue to teach tennis for the last four weeks of KAMP. Doug Cooper, Leanne and Jason Shaw, Robin Hall and Stephanie Buck did great crafts like string bracelets, yo-yos, popsicle stick art, finger painting and masks. The week ended with a cookout and swimming at Ponds Pond.

Management Changes Announced At Bank

Directors of Shawmut Arlington Trust Company have announced several senior management changes effective Sept. 1.

J. Richard Murphy, president and chief executive officer, will become chairman of the board and John M. DiGaetano, executive vice president, will succeed Murphy as president and chief executive officer of the $1.8 billion bank.

Under the new structure, all commercial lending responsibilities will be under the direction of Robert E. Griffin, executive vice president.

In commenting on the changes, Joel B. Alvord, chairman and chief executive officer of Shawmut National Corporation, said, "While Rick Murphy will no longer be associated with the bank on a full-time basis, we are delighted that he will continue to be involved with the leading commercial bank in the Merrimack Valley. We're also fortunate to have strong managers in John DiGaetano and Bob Griffin, both of whom are thoroughly familiar with the region and the bank."

Mr. DiGaetano has been associated with the bank for more than 26 years. He began his career in the branch system and quickly rose to the position of manager. Over the next decade he assumed increasingly responsible positions in the administration of the bank's now 31 branch offices. Mr. DiGaetano was named senior vice president in 1978 and appointed executive vice president of the bank in 1984. He has managed the consumer banking, consumer lending, product development, human resources and advertising departments.

Mr. Griffin joined Shawmut Arlington Trust Company in 1979 as a vice president in the commercial lending department. He was made senior vice president in 1981 and executive vice president in 1984. He holds a degree in finance from Boston College. Mr. Griffin serves on the board of the Merrimack Valley Catholic Charities, the finance committee of the Catholic Charities of the Archdiocese of Boston and is a trustee and member of the finance committee for St. John's Preparatory School in Danvers.

Camp Hurrah: Camp Hurrah began July 3 at Phillips Academy. Camp director Norma Ventre and counselors Barb Owens, Kristen Galvin and Keith Landry planned many exciting activities.

The campers visited the Lawrence airport and saw the control tower and aviation school planes. Jocelyn, an instructor, showed the inside of one of the planes and how all the switches and gears are used.

Betsy Kyle from Drumlin Farms in Lincoln visited and brought a milk snake, skunk and Great Horned owl. Camper Glenn MacVicar contributed his knowledge of the different animals.

Everyone was responsible for at least one item on the shopping list at Demoula's in Shawsheen Village for the first Camp Hurrah cookout. The meal was great, thanks to Ms. Galvin's and Mr. Landry's cooking.

Andover campers for the week of July 3-7 were Denise Carriere, Amy Griffin, Meg Johnston, Glenn MacVicar and Becky Richmond.

Downtown Andover in 1946

The Main Street Scene

By Charlotte Smith

In the 100 years represented by the Andover Historical Society's exhibit, "The Main Street Scene," Andover's central business district changed considerably to meet the needs of a growing population. In 1855, following its separation from the North Parish, Andover had a population of 4,810 and by 1950 that number had almost tripled to 12,400. Inevitably, particularly in the days before historic preservation and rehabilitation had become widely appreciated, many interesting buildings were torn down. At the same time, empty lots were filled in with new structures that could accommodate the increasing number and variety of businesses.

Despite these changes, Andover today has much for which to be thankful. With the spread of malls around the country, the number of towns that can boast a thriving business center with many early 19th-century buildings still intact has dwindled considerably. Certainly the restoration of the Town House marks a significant step in the effort to maintain some of the traditional character of this small town center.

Benefit Tournament

"The Main Street Scene" traces the development of downtown Andover from the mid-19th to mid-20th century, using maps, photographs, shop signs and other memorabilia. The exhibit committee recreated store window settings to display merchandise sold by apothecaries, hardware merchants and other retailers in earlier days.

Tools of the pharmacist's trade used in the 19th and 20th centuries are displayed; a mortar and pestle, sets of weights and measures and bottles of all shapes and sizes for storing and selling medicines. Also on view is the 1926 National Formulary, once the official guide for preparing-prescription and over-the-counter remedies. The barber shop scene is particularly eye-catching. A miniature indoor barber pole with its traditional red and white stripes, symbolizing blood and bandages, indicates the barber was once the local surgeon and dentist, applying leeches to let blood and extracting teeth as required. However, in the mid-20th century, barbers limited their activities to shaving and cutting and dressing hair.

While the exhibit draws largely on the society's own collection, many local businesses and individuals shared their period objects. The preparation and installation of this exhibit involved an enthusiastic team of staff members and volunteers.

EARTHFOOD NEWS

by Glenda McKertich

THE FAT OF THE LAND

According to a report in the "Lahey Clinic Health Letter", our children are losing the battle of the bulge. When researchers analyzed data from the National Center of Health statistics, they found that the number of obese children has increased by more than forty percent over the last two decades. Nationally, anywhere from one-quarter to almost one-third of our children are overweight. Not only does obesity (defined as being at least 20 percent over normal body-weight) lead to a host of health problems, it also brings on low self-esteem. Not surprisingly, children are advised to lose weight by exercising more and changing their dietary habits. Fried foods should be replaced by a variety of vegetables and low-fat dairy products. If snacks are necessary, they should consist of fruit. Proper dietary guidance is available at most health food centers.

Once the child starts school, a parent can't control every meal and snack. You can help, though, by serving lower calorie meals at home, and keeping only healthy snacks and desserts such as fresh fruit on hand. Visit THE EARTHFOOD STORE, 24 Park St., behind "old" town hall and check out our selection of natural foods, vitamins and cosmetics. Our natural groceries even include special pet foods for your cat and dog! We have juices, bulk grains and cereals, herbs and spices, and much more. Call 475-1234. P.S. Statistics show that children who grow up fat tend to stay fat into adulthood.

AFS Students Return Home

AFS students Tom Schellens of Belgium and Rosa Vargas of Peru accept gifts before leaving Andover for their homelands.

The American Field Service of Andover hosted two foreign exchange students for the past school year. Tim Schellens of Liers, Belgium, and Rosanna Vargas of Piura, Peru, said goodbye to their Andover host families and participated in a week-long bus trip of the United States before returning to their home countries.

Both students were honored at an "end-of-year" picnic by AFS club members and were presented books and gifts as reminders of their Andover, USA stay. Tim was hosted by the Dave Wahr family of Seneca Circle while Rosanna lived with Richard and Roberta Summers of Haggetts Pond Road.

AFS is the world leader in developing intercultural exchange programs for high school students and educators. This non-governmental, non-profit organization offers home stay programs in more than 60 countries throughout the world. The programs are primarily educational, combining the classroom with family life, cultural and recreational activities. For further information on AFS, contact David Wahr or Janice Sagasar.

Wins Trip To California

Elaine Pescatore of Andover, a Jafra Cosmetics Inc. manager, was among approximately 460 winners who took a trip to San Francisco's Westin St. Francis Hotel in June. Many winners earned a "spouse package," enabling them to be accompanied by their spouse, swelling the number of attendees to more than 600.

Mrs. Pescatore has been a Jafra consultant since 1980. She was invited to attend the trip in recognition of her achievement of specified high levels of sales and recruiting others into the Jafra program, said a Jafra spokesman.

"Achieving success in Jafra has been my goal from the beginning of my career," Mrs. Pescatore said. "I enjoy the challenge of being in business for myself and it's very gratifying to help others achieve success and personal growth."

Mrs. Pescatore helps provide training and support for Jafra consultants and offers the exclusive line of Jafra skin care, cosmetics and nail care products.

She and her husband, John, have two children, Michael, 5, and Matthew, 1½. The family has lived in Andover for six years.

Jafra Cosmetics, a direct-selling manufacturer of cosmetics, is represented by more than 60,000 independent consultants nationwide and nearly 50,000 more internationally. Founded in 1956, Jaffra is headquartered in Westlake Village, Calif. It is a subsidiary of the Gillette Co.

ABOUT OUR PEOPLE

MS Readathon Entrant Wants To Help Mother

By Melissa M. De Meo

For the past four years, 10-year-old Mark Ewalt has been among the top 100 fund-raisers in the Multiple Sclerosis Society readathon.

His brother, Andy, 12, was a top finisher in his first three years as a participant.

Between them, the boys won a Sony Walkman, trophies, coupons for Massachusetts museums and a visit with John Stephens, New England Patriot running back.

But, for the Ewalts, participation in the readathon was more poignant. Their mother has MS.

"Mark says, 'This is how I'm helping you now, mom,'" said Ann Ewalt from her Wabanaki Way home.

Ms. Ewalt, and her husband, John, used the readathon to tell their sons "mommy has MS."

Multiple sclerosis is a neurological disease that typically strikes young adults. Their myelin sheath, which coats nerve fibers, breaks down, affecting their ability to perform the simplest of tasks.

The course of the disease is vagarious. Some people may have a few symptoms once or twice and never again. Others may experience fatigue, loss of motor skills, paralysis, incontinence and memory problems. There is no cure.

"What Mark wanted to know was, 'Can you die from MS?'" Ms. Ewalt said. Although some victims die within a year of diagnosis, the death rate from MS is very low.

"I always wanted to have boys and not girls. I wanted to play ball in the backyard," Ms. Ewalt said. "But now, I have to say, 'I'm tired.'"

Her sons help with housework and cooking, she said.

"Now that it (the disease) has a name," it's less scary. Ms. Ewalt was told she had MS in 1982 when she started feeling weak and went blind in one eye. Before the diagnosis, her doctors were not sympathetic. "They told me I was a high-strung housewife," remembered Ms. Ewalt, who left her engineering job at Digital Equipment Corp. in January.

"It's a relief" to know her symptoms are real, she said.

Ms. Ewalt said she hasn't experienced much discrimination because of her disability. "I'm lucky with MS because it's invisible," she said.

Sometimes, if she knows she has to cover a lot of territory, Ms. Ewalt uses an automated cart. During a trip to the rest rooms at Burlington Mall, she had to pass a group of young people "dressed like punk rockers, with the green hair and everything. I thought, 'Oh no, I'm in for a hassle.'"

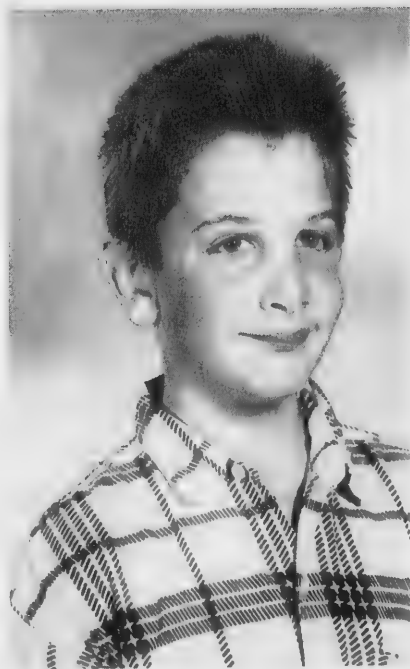

To her surprise, one of the teenagers held the women's room door for her and offered to wait until she came out again. "This kind of made me feel small. I realize that I had prejudged them," said Ms. Ewalt, adding, "It's more important to treat people with physical differences just like everyone else."

To that end, Ms. Ewalt thinks people should start learning about disabilities at a young age. She criticized the Andover school system for "sorely lacking programs that make (students) aware of differences. They need to sensitize the kids."

"The kids need to realize that they're extremely privileged."

West Elementary fourth-graders took part in a program called Understanding Disabilities, which brought in speakers to talk about various physical and learning disabilities. The youngsters also got a chance to see what it's like to be disabled first-hand by blindfolding themselves or trying to button clothes while wearing gloves. But the West program was canceled because of lack of funds.

Ms. Ewalt says her attempts to introduce the MS Society readathon into Andover's public schools have been thwarted. "I was really given the run-around," said Ms. Ewalt, who said she was told there is an official policy against fund-raisers in the school.

Mark Ewalt

But Dr. Lois Haslam, assistant superintendent of curriculum, said the decision to allow a particular fund-raiser is "up to the discretion of the schools."

Ms. Ewalt said she's been invited to present her case to the School Committee to suggest criteria for in-school fund-raisers. The committee wants to develop guidelines, including who should initiate fund-raisers, how many should be allowed a year and what benefit should they provide to the students, the school and the community.

All Ms. Ewalt wants, as far the readathon goes, she says, is to have teachers distribute materials to interested students.

When her sons started reading for the MS Society, forms were available through their cub scout den. Ms. Ewalt has since convinced A.J. Sports and Memorial Hall Library to make the information available.

Why all the fuss?

"For one thing, it encourages the kids to read. And they're doing things to help other people," she said. Her boys have alone raised over $4,000 for the MS Society since they started taking part in the readathon. The society's major fund-raiser helps research and patient care services.

"I get a good feeling out of helping other people," Mark Ewalt said. "I want to help my mother but help other people too."

Mark and other Massachusetts school children will start gathering pledges and hitting the books for the next readathon in January.

The MS Society will also bring a presentation right to the school if faculty express an interest. "It definitely does not focus on MS specifically," Ms. Ewalt said. The point of the assembly and the short film that goes with it is to heighten viewers' awareness.

"There's still attitudes that take a long time to change," she said.

Society Honors Readers

The Massachusetts chapter of the Multiple Sclerosis Society recently honored 135 school children for their outstanding efforts in the 1988-'89 MS readathon at a dinner party at the Crowne Plaza Hotel in Natick.

Among the award-winners was Mark Ewalt, 10, son of John and Ann Ewalt of 12 Wabanaki Way, a soon-to-be fifth-grader at Sanborn Elementary School. This year Mark read 27 books and raised $670 from pledges for the MS Society. It was his fourth year as a top achiever in the readathon.

Also participating was Joel Skaliotis, 10, son of George and Nancy Skaliotis of 8 Twin Brook Circle. Joel, who will be in fifth grade at Bancroft Elementary School in the fall, read 60 books and raised over $170.

Several students from the Franklin School in North Andover also finished the readathon. They are Bradley Bate, Cheryl and Gina Colarusso, Jennifer Gray and Julie and Ryan McDonnell.

Hosted by TV meteorologist Dick Albert, longtime honorary chairman of the program, the party recognized the children for raising funds for research and patient care services for the 6,000 Massachusetts residents who have multiple sclerosis, a neurological disease. Across the state over 6,000 school children raised $350,000 by reading over 120,000 books and obtaining pledges from family and friends this year.

The Massachusetts chapter's readathon is the third largest in the country, said Nancy Haugsjaa, readathon coordinator.

The good thing about a program like this one is that the participants are reading. A lot. The nationwide average is about 14 books per student, Ms. Haugsjaa said; in Massachusetts, the average is 19 books.

College To Describe Programs

The Simmons College admission office will offer four morning programs for female high school students interested in learning about the fields of education (July 27), physical therapy (July 28) and management (Aug. 9).

Students will spend half a day exploring fields of interest through visits to Boston hospitals, practice labs, videotapes, role-playing, panel discussions and workshops. The participants will speak with Simmons' students, faculty and alumnae about classes, residential living and other topics and tour the campus.

All high school students and their parents are welcome any or all of the career days free of charge.

For further information, call Simmons' admission office in Boston.

NHC Plans Open House

The New Hampshire College admission office will hold its summer Friday afternoon cookout and open house program July 28 and Aug. 18 as an opportunity for high school juniors and their parents to visit the campus and learn more about the college and its programs.

The programs will begin at noon at the south campus in Manchester, N.H.

Exhibit Features 'Found' Art

The Howard Yezerski Gallery in Boston announces a summer show, "Assemblage," featuring the work of Jon Cummings, Stuart Diamond, Tom Grabosky and Richard Mock, through Aug. 18.

The theme of "Assemblage" is exactly as the title implies: each artist creates his work by assembling found objects; each work is unique in terms of what it represents and the mood it creates. The pieces range from the elegant and fanciful to the gritty and earthbound.

Mr. Cummings is a relative newcomer to the art scene. His animal-like creatures won him a 1988 Artists Foundation fellowship in sculpture. He uses animal horns, wig hair, light bulbs, bicycle parts, pipes, toy wagon wheels and anything else he can find to create his exotic characters.

Mr. Diamond's constructions are

Walk

Bring your walking shoes or bicycle and a picnic snack for an evening exploration of Lowell. "Knapsack Tours" will travel little-known byways to discover canals and rivers, mills and mansions and neighborhoods of the industrial city.

These free tours are offered on Sunday evenings at 6 p.m. through Aug. 20 (excluding July 30). All tours are about two hours in length and depart from the Market Mills Courtyard unless otherwise noted. Space is limited, and reservations are required. Contact the Lowell National Historical Park, 169 Merrimack St., Lowell, for information.

Participants will take an Aug. 6 bike tour along the canal-side fronts of the mills, over the Bride Street bridge and down the river-side trail with the best view of the "mile of mills" and the mouth of the Concord River.

based on a more box-like or stage construction, leading to a narrative reading of the piece. He further manipulates his objects by painting them and masking their original features. Each piece thematically refers to a specific concept or place; the materials blend and relate homogeneously, gallery staff members said. Examples of his materials include wire, plastic fish and wooden panel molding.

Each piece by Boston artist Grabosky creates a specific mood. He uses objects that often relate to each other or create startling juxtapositions. Mr. Grabosky scours junk shops and demolition sites for his materials, which include plaster molds, Oriental masks, clock parts and fabric, among others. His work can be characterized as somewhat medieval: one part functional, one part decorative and one part menacing.

Painter, printmaker and sculptor Mock's work defies categorization in perhaps the grittiest examples of assemblage in the show. His pieces use picks and shovels, plastic bottle racks, bicycle seats and dirty toy lizards. They are assembled together on plywood planks or plastic frames, fastened by leather straps or pieces of twine.

Summer gallery hours are Tuesday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. and Monday by appointment. The gallery will be open by appointment after Aug. 18.

Carillonneur To Perform

Brian Swager, carillonneur of the University of Indiana at Bloomington, will give a free recital Tuesday, Aug. 1, at 7 p.m. in the continuing series of concerts on Phillips Academy's 37-bell carillon at Memorial Tower. He will play works from the De-Gruyters Carillon Book of 1746, transcriptions from the music of Bach, Beethoven, Mozart, Purcell, Stephen Foster and a group of familiar popular favorites. A group of songs from the era of the French Revolution, acknowledging the 200th anniversary of that event, will be included.

Phillips Academy musicians will give a performance July 28 at Old Town Hall.

Phillips Concert Series Continues At Town Hall

A brass quintet will perform Friday, July 28, at 7:30 p.m. at the newly renovated Old Town Hall.

The program will include a work for brass quintet by Stanley Weiner; "Summer Music" for wind quintet by Samuel Barber; Handel's solo cantata "In Praise of Harmony"; and Aaron Copeland's "Quiet City" for trumpet, English horns and strings.

The concert is being sponsored by the Andover Historical Society and the Phillips Academy summer session.

It is the second to last concert in the Friday evening series. The last will be held Aug. 4 and will feature classical favorites sung and played by soloists accompanied by the Academy Festival Chamber Orchestra under the direction of William Thomas, chairman of Phillips' music department.

Auditions

Auditions will be held for Menagerie Theatre's September production of Chamber Music on Tuesday and Wednesday, Aug. 1 and 2, from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the Top-notch Theatre, third floor, Liberal Arts Building at Northern Essex Community College in Haverhill.

Chamber Music by Arthur Kopit concerns a strange meeting in an institutional setting of women who dress and act like famous historical personages. There are eight female and two male roles in the play. Performances will be held Friday and Saturday evenings, Sept. 15-30.

German Organist To Give Recital

Organist Peter Schammberger, choir director at St. Lukas Church in Munich, West Germany, will perform Monday, July 31, at 8 p.m. at Cochran Chapel on the Phillips Academy campus.

The program will include Grand choeur in D major by Guilmant; Choralvorspiel: "Lobe den Herren, den mächtigen König"; Toccata in F major; Choralvorspiel: "Wachet auf, ruft uns die Stimme"; Toccata and Fugue in D minor, all by J.S. Bach; and Mr. Schammberger's American Suite: Hymn, At the Ocean, Niagara Falls.

Mr. Schammberger was born in Coburg and received his first organ lessons from his father, the local church music director. While still in school, he became the student of Professor Georg Kempff at the Kirchenmusikalisches Institut in Erlangen.

He was the 1956 soloist at the Organwerk in Erlangen, then studied church music at the Statl, Hochschule für Musik, München, and had master classes in organ with Professor Karl Richter. Since 1965 he has been the principal organist in Munich. He was a soloist during the Nurnberger Orgelwoche in 1969 and has given concerts throughout Germany and Austria and has been heard on radio broadcast.

The public is invited.

New Show Looks At Community Service

Business and Community, a new series on Andover Television Center channel 12, is designed to show what local businesses are doing for the community.

The show will examine community service programs and meet the people who volunteer for them. Viewers can also find out how to get involved themselves.

Travel In The Steamships Era

The Peabody Museum of Salem, Mass., will open "Steamship Travel," a journey through the steamship era in America from the 19th century to the early 20th century, Friday, Aug. 4.

Of all navigable bodies of water throughout the world, none has played a more critical role in the history of the steamship and its impact on society than the Atlantic Ocean, linking the old and new worlds. Speed, safety and luxury were the hallmarks of transatlantic steamship service, nicknamed the Atlantic Ferry during its heyday from 1840 to 1940.

Steamship travel, a reinstatement of the museum's popular "Steam and the Sea" exhibit, which opened in 1983, chronicles the rise and fall of steamship travel from its incipient stages in the 19th century through its decline in the early 1900s.

The Peabody will also present gallery talks, one of which is "Travel in the Steamship Era," scheduled for Tuesday, Sept. 19, at 11 a.m. Daniel Finamore, assistant curator of maritime history, will offer a look into the new exhibit. The talk, free with museum admission, will be held in the Steamship Gallery.

One of the nation's oldest museums, the Peabody Museum was founded in 1799 and contains more than 300,000 objects in the collections of maritime history, Asian export art, ethnology and natural history.

nia and Phil Maymin, who say they wanted to find out how neighborhood businesses help the community and how residents can contribute their special skills.

The first part of the new series will cover the Challenge Unlimited program at Ironstone Farm and will air Tuesday, Aug. 1, on Heritage Cable channel 12.

Challenge Unlimited is a therapeutic riding program for disabled children and adults. The motion of the horse relaxes certain muscles and tenses others for aid in physical therapy, Ironstone staff members said. The program is also designed to build self-confidence and encourage friendships between people and animals.

If your business has a program you think belongs on the show, call the Maymins in Andover.

State Forest To Host Fishing Festival

Summertime, fishing and Harold Parker State Forest: it's a natural combination. The forest will celebrate this threesome with a fishing festival on Saturday, Aug. 5, at Field Pond on Harold Parker Road.

Registration begins at 10 a.m. at the pond and is free and open to the public. The first 25 participants to register will receive cards worth 10 percent off any purchase at Bucko's Sporting Goods Inc., 265 Main St., North Reading.

The Greater Lowell Urban Anglers are sponsoring fishing clinics on casting and knot-tying techniques, baiting and fishing. They will also supply fishing tackle and bait for participants who do not bring their own. No fishing license if required for registered participants between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.

And there will be prizes. The Urban Anglers have donated fishing tackle, and Bucko's has also donated tackle, plus a rod and reel as the grand prize.

For more information, contact park interpreter Amy Marquis at the Harold Parker Forest office.

The festival is being sponsored by the state Department of Environmental Management, Bucko's and the Urban Anglers program, which is under the direction of the state Department of Fish and Wildlife.

Saturday

2 p.m. "Water, Water Everywhere." A weekly event about a precious resource. This week, participants will take part in a "swamp stomp." Wear shoes that can get wet and muddy. Meet at the camp office. About an hour.

8:30 p.m. "Stories 'Round the Fire." Story-telling and a blazing fire set the scene beneath the pine trees. Meet at the Frye Pond campfire site (entrance at camp office. About an hour.

Sunday

9 a.m. "Rise 'n' Shine." Join park interpreter Amy Marquis each week as she observes all the morning activity. Today, she'll be listening for "Drink Your Tea," a "top 40 tune" in the forest. Meet at the forest headquarters. About an hour.

11 Sunday morning stroll. A weekly walk for everyone. Today participants will take a relaxing forest frolic. Meet at the headquarters. About an hour.

Tuesday

2 p.m. "Young Explorers." Participants will examine forest giants. Meet at the camp office. About an hour.

Alums To Hold Theater Party

The Alumni Association of Merrimack College is sponsoring a theater party at the North Shore Music Theater in Beverly on Friday, Aug. 11.

The evening's offering is Leonard Bernstein's West Side Story.

A reception will begin at 6 p.m. with hot and cold hors d'oeuvres; show time is 7:40 p.m.

Tickets are available on a first-come, first-served basis.

For further information, call Merrimack College's alumni office.

THE SOCIAL SIDE

Garden In Woods Goes Wild

A walk through the wildflower meadow at Garden in the Woods in Framingham is a walk through the sights and sounds of summer.

Brilliant blossoms in colors of raspberry, lavender, orange, white, blue and gold will delight visitors. And you don't have to bend over to see these flowers. Many of the plants, such as purple cone flowers, blazing stars and Turk's-cap lilies, are 4 to 6 feet high with flowers as large as 5 inches in diameter.

As the bold meadow plants trumpet their bright colors, butterflies provide flitting accents. Visitors may see skip-pers and meadow fritillary landing on nectar-rich blossoms, butterfly moths hovering near cup plants or goldfinch searching flower stalks for seeds.

A profusion of flowers bloom throughout the meadow from July to mid-September. During early summer white ox-eye daisies, Canada lilies, butterfly weed and Stokes' asters lead the parade. As July passes into August, coneflowers, blazing stars, bee balm and wild bergamot replace them.

By September asters, ironweeds and goldenrods dominate the landscape. These plants represent more than 30 species of showy wildflowers native or naturalized in the Northeast.

This year marks the fifth year the experimental, low-maintenance meadow has been a summer highlight at Garden in the Woods. Visitors can get a special two-for-one admission rate Aug. 1 to 6. If visitors are in different admission categories, the higher rate will be charged.

The Garden in the Woods, Hemenway Road, is open Tuesday through Sunday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. It is closed Monday. Informal walks are conducted through October on Tuesday and Friday mornings at 10 a.m. for individuals who want to stroll through the garden with a guide.

Affordable live-in childcare.

If you think live-in childcare is too expensive, consider an au pair. An EF au pair can actually cost you less than daycare and gives your family the culturally enriching experience of hosting a well-educated, English speaking European.

Selected by our own staff in Europe, EF Foundation au pairs are experienced in childcare, have passed a rigorous screening process, and hold legal U.S. visas.
If you're looking for affordable live-in childcare, call for more information.

OBITUARIES

Charles F. Dalton III

Charles "Chad" F. Dalton III, 19, of 121 Raleigh Tavern Lane in North Andover died July 25, 1989, from injuries sustained in a car accident. He was pronounced dead at the scene by Falmouth medical examiner Edward Tripp.

Born in Portsmouth, N.H., Mr. Dalton had lived in Andover and moved to North Andover 11 years ago.

He was entering his second year at Western New England College in Springfield. He graduated in 1987 from North Andover High School, where he played football and was on the wrestling team. He completed basic Marine Corps training at Parris Island and graduated from Brewster Academy.

Members of his family include his father, Atty. Charles F. Dalton, Jr. of Andover; his mother and stepfather, Janice (Lewis) and Frank H. Fernald of North Andover; brothers, Jonathan and Matthew Dalton; sisters, Sara Dalton and Jocelyn Price; maternal grandparents, Michael and Elizabeth Lewis of Dover, N.H.; an uncle, former Andover Selectman William Dalton; and several aunts, uncles and cousins.

Funeral services will be held today at 2 p.m. at Caron Funeral Home, 30 Main St., North Andover. Burial will be in West Parish Cemetery in Andover.

Relatives and friends may call from noon to 2 p.m. today at the funeral home. Memorial contributions may be made to the Charles "Chad" F. Dalton III Scholarship Fund, care of Dalton Law Offices, 1 Dundee Park, P.O. Box 608, Andover, Mass. 01810.

William F. Simeone

William F. Simeone of 15 Cheever Circle died July 24, 1989, at Port Rehabilitation Center in Newburyport. He was 82.

Mr. Simone was born in Wakefield, and received his education in the Andover school system.

In 1933 he founded Simeone's Pharmacy, which is still located in Andover, and was a former president of the Greater Lawrence Druggist Association.

Members of his family include his current wife, Kathleen (Connolly) Simeone of Andover, and his late wife, Dorothy (Martin) Simeone of Andover who died in 1952; sons, William F. "Bud" Jr. of Andover and Michael of Davis, Calif.; daughters, Elizabeth L. Fountain of North Andover, Jane A. Roy of Newburyport, and Judith Faxon of Bradford; a sister, Mary Lussier of Methuen; stepdaughters, Kathleen Carey and Maureen Faucher, both of Methuen; several grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at the Edgerley and Bessom Funeral Home. Burial was in Spring Grove Cemetery.

Memorial donations may be made to the charity of one's choice.

George W. Laliberte

George W. Laliberte, 62, of Methuen, died July 22, 1989, at his home.

Born in Lawrence, Mr. Laliberte was a former advertising representative for The Lawrence Eagle-Tribune for 10 years and before that, worked for Eagle-Tribune Printing as a salesman for 10 years. He was also a veteran of the U.S. Navy.

Members of his family include his wife, Arlene M. (Driscoll) Laliberte; daughters, Deedy Joaquin of Plaistow, N.H., and Susan Forrest of Millbury; sisters, Irene Ouellette of Lawrence, Ethel Sirois of Methuen and Dorothy Thibodeau of Hialeah, Fla.; two granddaughters; his mother-in-law, Hilda (Driscoll) Keith of Salem, N.H.; an aunt, Irene Libbey of Andover; and several nieces and nephews.

Private services will be held at the convenience of the family. Cremation will take place at Linwood Crematory in Haverhill.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Easter Seal Society, 5 Ballard Way, Lawrence, Mass. 01840.

Dr. Paul Waxler, 49, of 2 Robinswood Way, died July 20, 1989, at Stevens Hall Convalescent Home in North Andover of cancer.

Dr. Waxler was an ophthalmologist who practiced in the Portsmouth, N.H., area for 18 years.

Born in Providence, R.I., he was a graduate of Cranston High School. Dr. Waxler received a bachelor of arts degree from Boston University and attended medical school at the University of Vermont. He completed his internship at Good Samaritan Hospital in Oregon and his residency training in ophthalmology at the University of Alabama.

Dr. Waxler served from 1969 to 1971 as a lieutenant commander in the U.S. Navy at the Portsmouth Shipyard.

He worked closely with the Lions Club, treating hundreds of needy patients with free visual screening. He was instrumental in conducting free screenings for Tay Sachs disease in the Portsmouth Dover area, as well as the University of New Hampshire.

Dr. Waxler also spearheaded a campaign to fluoridate water in the Portsmouth area. He earned a special award from the New Hampshire Dental Society.

He used vacation time to operate on poor and blind people in Haiti and Guatemala, working with Project Focus (Free Ophthalmological Care from the United States).

Dr. Waxler founded the Journal Club for continuing education for ophthalmologists. He was recognized on many occasions by the American Medical Association for his progress in continuing education programs, which were attended by physicians from all the New England states.

Members of his family include his wife, Andrea (Vickness) Waxler; sons, Aaron and Benjamin Waxler, both of Andover; a daughter, Carrie Waxler of Andover; his parents, William and Bessie Waxler of Manchester, N.H.; and a sister, Phyllis Tonopolsky of St. Louis, Mo.

Funeral services were held at Temple Emanuel.

Speed Reading

Memorial Hall Library is offering a speed reading course Mondays and Wednesdays, Aug. 14, 16, 21 and 23, from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Designed to meet the academic needs of high school, college and graduate students, this course will place equal emphasis on rate of reading and reading comprehension. One meeting will be devoted to textbook strategies and organizational skills.

Class materials are assigned on an individual basis, with rate and comprehension practice and counseling follow-up conducted on a one-on-one format. Each person works at the appropriate level as determined by personal goals decided upon at the beginning of the course.

Musical Programs

Tickets for two end-of-summer musical programs presented by the Children's Room are available. For children ages 3 to 8, Joyce Griffiths and Jan Maier will perform fun and nonsense songs in a program called "Pickles and Puppies" on Thursday, Aug. 3, at 4:30 p.m. Joyce sings and Jan plays the guitar.

"The Magic Story Hat" and other stories will be performed by Doug Lippman, a well-known storyteller from the Boston area, especially for 6-12 year olds on Wednesday, Aug. 9, at 2 p.m.

BABY TALK

by Jack Resnick

Sometime during pre-school, a child understands that money has value and can be used to obtain possessions. He or she doesn't know much about it and probably is not aware of the difference between a penny and a dime. By the age of four, most children know that two coins are more desirable than one coin, but they don't understand much beyond that. With the aid of television advertising, the child now begins to desire toys or other articles that appear on the screen or are seen in stores. It will be difficult for your child to comprehend why a toy can be bought one day and not another. You'll find yourself saying, "No! a great deal during this period. Sooner or later your child will have learned that he/she can't have everything.

There is a complete assortment of baby needs available at TINY TOTLAND. We feature famous makers including Simmons, Childcraft and Bassett. Over 80 cribs are on display. Selectmen Disagree On Role Of Policy Manual

By Frank Messina

The Board of Selectmen couldn't agree on establishing a policy establishing a policy manual.

All four selectmen present at Monday night's work session saw the need to document past precedent, but they split on how binding such a document would be.

"Calling it a policy handbook scares me," said Selectman James Barenboim. "The word 'policy' is so final."

Easily challenged in court, a policy manual would be a waste of time, said Mr. Barenboim.

Town Manager Kenneth Mahony also questioned the need for a policy manual. Policy manuals are scarce among municipalities under a town meeting government, he said.

Under the town charter, the Board of Selectmen is an administrative body—not a policy-making body.

But a policy manual would support the board, Chairman Gail Ralston suggested. "It gives us a basis for future decisions" and "helps us in bolstering our positions," she said.

"A strong statement has to be made...about what has gone on in the past," said Mrs. Ralston.

The chairman and Selectman Gerald Silverman added that policy manual guidelines could be changed at will. "It's not going to be written on stone," said Mr. Silverman, "it's on paper."

A rarely used, outdated version of an Andover policy handbook—"it hasn't been touched in seven years," said Mr. Mahony—will be reviewed by the board, which indicated they would discuss the issue at a future meeting.

Community Uses Center Seldom, Says Subcommittee

By Lisa A. Boudreau

After a brief tour of the J. Everett Collins Center July 19, subcommittee members chosen to evaluate the center reviewed their plans and findings. It was the group's second meeting since being appointed last month by the School Committee.

Diana Gould, a subcommittee member studying school usage of the center, told the group she had met with school administrators and program directors, some of whom questioned ticket prices for children's programs and performance overbookings that lead to children having to sit in aisles.

"There was a lot of confusion about scheduling, costs and arrangements when somebody other than the high school wanted to use it (the auditorium)," Ms. Gould said.

Jan Burkholder, who reported the preliminary findings of the subcommittee's community usage task force, said the center's calendar indicated minimal community usage in the past 10 months. Ms. Burkholder said she will try to contact local community groups in the next few weeks to find out their interest in using the Collins Center.

ing the Collins Center.

Subcommittee member Jack Dziadul said the Collins Center had cost the town $3.5 million when it was built and $137,000 spent on recent roof repairs.

He said the AEA had been successful in supplementing admissions revenue with income from advertising in its programs and grants and donations.

Mr. Dziadul said the contract with Artistic Productions Inc., the Collins Center's management firm, is not available for public review. He encouraged the subcommittee to examine the confidentiality of the API report.

The next subcommittee meeting will be held Wednesday, Aug. 9, at 7:30 p.m. in the town offices meeting room. The subcommittee was established last month to study a contract between the School Committee and the Andover Endowment for the Arts, which runs the center. The subcommittee is charged with ex-

Shawsheen School To Start Foster Grandparent Program

By Lisa A. Boudreau

Some Andover grandparents will be back in the classroom this fall.

The school system is trying out a new program this school year, which marks the 25th anniversary of the federally funded foster grandparent program.

The Andover program, slated for Shawsheen School, is an extension of a similar one in Lowell, whose schools get funds from ACTION, a national agency for volunteerism. The Lowell program will set the framework and oversee the Andover venture, said Dorothy Winn, director of the Andover Council on Aging.

Because of cutbacks in federally funded ACTION programs, communities that want to establish the foster grandparent programs in their schools are no longer given stipends, said Ms. Winn. The program in Andover will depend on volunteers, senior citizens offering their time and energy to children with special needs.

This intergenerational approach in the schools will benefit both the students and the teachers, said Candace Bachner, a kindergarten teacher at Shawsheen, who studied similar programs in Maine. Ms. Bachner received a Horace Mann grant last year to research ways to promote community relations within the educational system.

The new location of the Andover Cos.

Andover Cos. Moves To West Andover

By Lisa A. Boudreau

The Andover Cos. insurance business has moved to many different locations in its 161-year history. The latest move from their most recent home at the former Balmoral Spa building to a new location in West Andover was completed Monday.

The Andover Cos. began as the Merrimack Mutual Fire Insurance Co. It was born one January night in 1828 at the James Locke Tavern at 111 Main St., considered by the National Register of Historic Places as "one of the most important historic sites in Andover." The tavern was a meeting spot for a variety of entrepreneurs in the town.

Many familiar names of Andover notables and institutions appear on the first roster of policyholders. Among the policies issued in the first two years was one covering a building at Phillips Academy and another at Abbot Academy.

From its birth at the historic tavern on Main Street the company has moved to a few new locations down the road, including a former bank building, where it remained for many years, and then to the former Balmoral Spa.

The Spa was built in 1919 as part of William M. Wood's dream community. It quickly became the hub of Shawsheen's recreational activity with its garden for outdoor dancing and its well-kept tennis courts.

Through many changes of ownership and management, the Spa operated continuously except for a few days in 1936. The shop was closed, and the owners held a few friendly games of checkers while they waited for the 71-inch high flood waters of the Shawsheen River to subside.

The Andover Cos. have resided in the Spa building for the past 32 years, said Russell Bishop, vice president and controller of the insurance company. As the company prospered, it built additions to the Shawsheen landmark. In 1980 the firm was awarded a community service award by the Andover Chamber of Commerce for maintaining the architectural integrity of the original building.

A bigger building at a different location was opted for rather than another addition, said Mr. Bishop.

"We've outgrown this building," he said, adding, "Everybody here is looking forward to the move with a great deal of anticipation."

For now the future use of the of Spa building is unknown. The building is in the hands of a real estate broker and up for sale or lease, he said.

Kaleidoscope Classes Amuse And Teach Kids Of All Interests

Youngsters from all over the Merrimack Valley attend the Kaleidoscope program. Here, a group of boys compares and swaps baseball cards in Baseball Mania.

Spangles and Bangles is a class for budding jewelers. It's part of the Department of Community Services' annual Kaleidoscope program, which offers classes in a variety of disciplines.

A group of kids puts dance routines together in a class called Step-pin' Out. The dances were performed for parents and friends at the end of the first week of Kaleidoscope classes.

OPINION

Compromise Necessary

It seems logical that some sort of compromise could be reached with regard to the proposed tree removal in the York Street area of Shawsheen.

A hearing on the removal of 23 trees lining York Street is set for Monday afternoon at 2 in the selectmen's room of the town offices building.

Removal of the trees is dictated by the need for sidewalk reconstruction and road improvements, as well as being a part of federal grant given the town for such work.

Is it necessary that all these trees be arbitrarily removed after surviving over 70 years of adverse weather conditions, traffic, etc.?

Hardly.

This is not the first time that Shawsheen residents have been threatened with tree removal.

A few years ago, as construction of the Riverina Road sewer pumping station project moved forward, as well as installation of main power company feeder lines, many trees were proposed for removal in order to facilitate the modernization processes.

At that time, compromise was reached, and the Shawsheen greenery remained pretty much intact.

Frankly, there should be some form of compromise reached on the York Street proposal as well.

Admittedly, some of the trees must be removed. According to Town Manager Kenneth Mahony, some are dead or in such bad shape they should be removed anyway, which is understandable.

But there is some historic as well as aesthetic value to the trees, being a part of William M. Wood's plan for a dream village in the Shawsheen area.

Trees are a necessary part of the environment. In this particular area, they not only contribute to environmental balance but also act as a buffer to the industrial complex, contributing shade and, in some cases, reducing the amount of noise for residential neighbors.

Federal grants are nice to come by, but often those who issue approval for such financing attach conditions arbitrarily and without seeing firsthand what effect their rulings would have on a neighborhood.

Frankly, the wholesale destruction of trees that have lined York Street for years, been a part of the village community and served an environmental need, seems unnecessary. Municipal officials will, it is hoped, deal with the matter accordingly.

Just A Thought

By Bob Finneran

'Twas a fine evening. A bit of Americana at its best.

While the orchestra didn't take the bandstand, their appearance on the platforms in The Park in front of Memorial Auditorium Sunday night was just fine, and except for the absence of the Hatch Shell, one could easily have assumed you were along the banks of the Charles enjoying a performance of the Boston Pops at the Esplanade.

Speaking, of course, about the 'Concert in the Park' presented by students from throughout the country and possibly some foreign lands, attending the summer session at Phillips Academy. The concert was sponsored by the Andover Historical Society and BayBank in celebration of its 175th anniversary.

Guess there were about 700 people on hand for the presentation on a lovely evening. Don't hold me to that attendance figure, because math and I never got along, but a cursory glance and a guestimate by Town Manager Kenneth Mahony seemed like a satisfactory figure.

Old Glory unfurled gently in the soft breeze in front of the town offices as the orchestra opened the program with the national anthem.

Then William Thomas, chairman of the academy's music department, took the multi-talented musicians through a program that brought pleasure to all.

There were musical highlights from Rocky, a Muppet medley, 'Somewhere Out There,' 'Maple Leaf Rag' and some Scott Joplin selections.

The considerable gathering of musicians, enough to rival that of the number at the Pops or Esplanade, offered Symphony No. 3 in A minor, then went into a couple of Pops favorites by Leroy Anderson, 'Blue Tango' and 'Plink, Plank, Plunk.'

Then a Michael Jackson spectacular was offered, followed by selections from Sound of Music.

Among the particular features was a solo by tenor Gregory Jackson, who presented 'Onaway, Awake Beloved,' from Hiawatha's Wedding Feast, which was well received by the gathering.

And there was the presentation of the hymn 'America,' written by Samuel Francis Smith on the Phillips campus many years ago.

At the conclusion of the program, Mr. Thomas presented an encore of the hymn and asked those in attendance to stand and sing along with the band. The response was enthusiastic and inspiring.

There were some other features to be noted, such as the American Field Service cooking hamburgers and hot dogs over charcoal, not just to support their cause, but to provide some refreshments on a midsummer night. Bill Colby, an Andover High School faculty member and AFS supporter, supervised the proceedings.

And just to our right, one of the nicest scenes of all, a group of senior citizens, older Americans, or whatever, who were thoroughly enjoying themselves and broke into song during the playing of 'Eidelweiss' from Sound of Music.

From babes in arms to older Americans, for Andoverites and those who came to enjoy the concert, there was no sign of disappointment.

It is truly amazing what a community like Andover has going for it in the way of cultural opportunities and just pure enjoyable events.

It is hoped that Mr. Thomas will bring the group back soon, so that more may take advantage of the opportunity.

Among the flowers that he still proudly cares for himself, William C. Coutts happily greeted the many friends and relatives who called on him Monday in honor of his 90th birthday. One of his daughters, Mrs. Robert L. Morrison of Detroit, Michigan, arrived in town, Saturday, with Mr. Morrison to be present for the occasion, and Mrs. Dana W. Clark of 72 Maple avenue, his other daughter with whom he resides, was the hostess. A son, David Coutts of Elm street, and family were also present. He has one other son, Mr. William M. Coutts of Somerville.

Mr. Coutts was born in Arbroath, Scotland, and lived with his family in France for fourteen years, returning to Scotland for his education. He has lived in Andover for the past 67 years where he has been active in church and fraternal organizations. He is one of the oldest members of the St. Matthew's lodge and the Square and Compass club. He was employed by the old Smith and Dove Manufacturing Company until his retirement twenty-five years ago.

THE PUBLIC FORUM

Leave York Street Trees Where They Are

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

We are writing on behalf of our neighbors on York Street to express grave concerns about a pending decision by the town to cut down the 23 trees that line the street in the block north of Haverhill Street. The town proposes to remove these trees so as to cooperate with Brickstone Properties, our neighbor across the street, in burying utility lines.

It is disturbing to all of us that the town would undertake so callously to destroy the appearance of the historic Shawsheen district. Those trees were planted nearly 70 years ago as part of William Wood's design for Shawsheen Village. Thanks to his foresight, the trees now add shade and screening to all our homes.

Certainly Brickstone Properties is to be commended for all they have done in renovating what used to be a dilapidated property. They have worked diligently and invested heavily in preserving the character of the neighborhood.

That is why we are so surprised and disappointed at the notion of sacrificing 23 trees so power lines can be buried. That seems to us an unnecessarily high price to pay.

Concerned as we are about this proposal to alter drastically the environment of our street, we are puzzled that the town would schedule the required public hearing on this plan at 2 p.m. on a Monday afternoon (July 31, a time when many Andover residents are on vacation). For all of us, that is a most inconvenient time, requiring us to be absent from work. Could it be that the municipal maintenance department does not want to hear from the citizens? Other town boards and departments hold evening meetings so as to encourage, not minimize, public participation.

We call upon the town manager and the municipal maintenance department to give reasonable ear to the voices of the people directly affected, and we ask all concerned with the preservation of the town's natural environment to join us at this hearing.

Donald and Victoria Robb

Congratulations To Rep. Tucker

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

I would like to congratulate our representative, Susan Tucker.

She not only had the guts to take an unpopular stand on the tax issue, but she also took the time to explain to her constituents in detail why she thought it was necessary.

I think she is a dedicated, hardworking and thoughtful public servant. Andover is fortunate to have such a person representing it in our state Legislature.

Volunteers Needed To Push Recycling

By Virginia Cole

Are there readers who want to get involved in waste reduction, recycling and reuse? Volunteers are needed to write letters, attend conferences, join organizations and—always—to talk to local government officials. There is a public interest lobby called MassPIRG for those deciding to become more active. Its address is 29 Temple Place, Boston 02111.

The organization will keep you informed of legislative bills that need a push, meetings on the subject in the state and improvements that affect the environment all over the country.

Perhaps it is time to have a good word for Exxon. In New Jersey, Exxon chemical has installed floating roofs on tanks holding liquid organic materials. This has prevented the loss of vaporizing into the air of more than $1.5 million of liquid toxics.

EMRA, our regional organization, reports on recycling programs in neighboring towns. Lexington has curbside recycling pickup of glass, newspapers, magazines and aluminum cans. Lexington pays for this service, of course, but in the seven months of the program the town has saved more than enough to pay for the contract.

It will soon add leaves and yard waste to the mandatory recycling list and its trash hauler, Waste Management, will pick them up and transport them to Lexington's composting site at no additional cost to the town. This hauling is less expensive than taking them to the North Andover incinerator, the same one Andover uses. Lexington expects removing leaves from the waste stream may reduce the town's tipping fees by as much as 10 percent.

Call Cynthia Hollenbeck of Andover for more news or ways to help EMRA.

I hear there are groups in town looking for more tax money, schools for instance. I would like to suggest that environmentalists who read these articles speak to those who don't about the potential savings of town money in the Board of Public Works budget by mandatory recycling, leaves and yard waste composting, curbside pickup of glass and plastics and any other ideas you may have to reduce the waste stream.

Andover has been doing very well with its curbside paper pickup for 15 years or more. But others are getting ahead of us. It has often been said that nothing in life stands still. If you don't move forward, soon you will be passed or begin to go backward.

Recycling is in our future, but why not our present?

The Council on Aging trip to Quincy Market is sold out. Don't miss out on other upcoming trips. Call the senior center today at 470-3830 for an up-to-date listing of Andover Council on Aging trips. Ogunquit, Maine, is the destination for Thursday, Aug. 31. Enjoy a fully escorted trip to this picturesque artist colony and explore the shops in Perkins Cove. Lunch will be at a local inn followed by a matinee performance of Rogers' and Hammerstein's Sound of Music at the Ogunquit Playhouse. The cost for this trip, including deluxe coach transportation, is $69. Space is limited, so get your tickets today.

Enjoy an Italian festival at the senior center on Thursday, Aug. 17. The fun begins at 11:45 a.m., followed by music for listening and dancing with Chet Harnden and his Big Band sound. Tickets cost $3 for Andover seniors and $3.50 for all others.

Temperatures above 90 degrees Fahrenheit can cause health problems, including heat exhaustion, heat stroke and heart failure, especially when the humidity is high. Older people are particularly vulnerable to the effects of heat stress, which places a strain on the heart and blood vessels. Chances of getting sick in hot weather are increased by a weak or damaged heart, hypertension, problems with circulation, diabetes, a previous stroke, overweight, infection or fever, drinking alcoholic beverages, skin diseases or sunburn which may reduce sweating.

Take the following steps to avoid heat stress: spend as much time as possible in cooler surroundings; use fans and air conditioners wisely; drink plenty of fluids such as water and fruit juice; take cool baths or showers (cool water removes extra body heat 25 times faster than cool air); wear lightweight, light-colored, loose-fitting clothing (cotton is very comfortable); wear a hat or umbrella to protect head and neck when outdoors; slow down and take it easy, especially at the start of hot weather when the body is less prepared for the heat (physical activity produces body heat); watch salt intake and avoid alcohol (alcohol interferes with the body's fight against heat stress and can put a strain on the heart).

One way to stay cool is to visit the se-

Assets Show Growth

Andover Bancorp Inc. announced its operating results for the second quarter ended June 30. Andover Bancorp's assets have grown to $661 million, compared to $656 million for the same period in 1988. Its capital-to-assets ratio now stands at 15.8 percent.

Net income for the quarter totaled $1,210,000 or 26 cents per share, compared to $2,147,000 or 43 cents per share in the same quarter last year. Net income included a net gain, before the effect of taxes, on the sales of securities and loans amounting to $570,000 in the second quarter of 1989, compared to a net gain of $832,000 in the second quarter of 1988.

Net income in the second quarter of 1989 was impacted by a $1,161,000 addition to the quarterly provision for loan losses.

"This addition to the loan loss reserve was made in recognition of continued weakness in the New England real estate market," said Robert M. Henderson, chairman of the board.

Year-to-date income for 1989 totaled $2,989,000 or 64 cents per share, compared to $3,837,000 or 77 cents per share for the first six months of 1988. Included in net income were net gains, before the effect of taxes, on the sales of securities and loans amounting to $375,000 for the 1989 period, compared to $1,248,000 for the same period in 1988.

American All-Stars Take District Title

By Rick Harrison

The Andover American Major Little League (11-12 years) All-Stars kept the District 14 championship "in the family," completing an undefeated run to the title last Sunday by trimming Chelmsford Fitts 10-5.

In winning its first district crown in several years, Andover American duplicated the first small step taken by Andover National last summer en route to the Little League World Series in Williamsport.

Other recent victories by the Americans en route to the crown were 5-2 over the same Fitts squad and 8-4 over Chelmsford Lupien.

Coach Joe Iarrobino's crew finished the tourney with a perfect 5-0 record, the first time in a decade the district champ has gone undefeated (the last two rounds are double elimination).

Andover American has now advanced to Bi-District play, where it will meet the District 13 (Wakefield-Woburn-Wilmington area) champ this Saturday at 2 p.m. at East Street Poulin Field in Tewksbury.

Should the locals win again they'll be one of eight surviving teams in the state, and will play in the Sectionals at Lynn.

The four-team State Tournament which follows will also be held in Lynn.

After that the Eastern Regionals and Williamsport await.

In other District 14 play, the gallant run by the Andover 13's for the district championship fell just short after a tough 6-4 loss to defending titlist Billerica in a winner-take-all final.

The loss snapped a five-game victory streak that had seen Andover climb from the depths of the loser's bracket to the brink of success.

Andover American, 5-2

Andover American continued its march towards the District 14 championship round with an impressive 5-2 decision over Chelmsford Fitts in a winner's bracket semifinal.

Lefthander Ryan Jacobson (2-0 tourney record) tossed a four-hitter at previously-undefeated Fitts, striking out three and walking six.

Greg Kay was the losing hurler for the eventual division finalist, yielding seven hits, walking two and fanning four.

The Americans took a 2-0 lead in the bottom of the second when Tom Tanin singled, Jacobson reached on a fielder's choice, Tim McGovern singled and an error was committed on the base hit.

In the third Tanin was safe on a two-base error, took third on a passed ball, and crossed when Jacobson hoisted a sacrifice fly to centerfield.

The lead jumped to 4-0 in the fourth as McGovern ripped another single, and raced all the way home on Brian Tisbert's double. Tisbert was subsequently nailed trying to stretch the hit to a triple.

Chelmsford Fitts closed to 4-2 in the top of the fifth, spoiling Jacobson's shutout when Ryan Finnegan walked, Jeff Thompson walked, a passed ball advanced both and a wild throw enabled both to score.

Tim Daly then walked, Matt Caffelle singled, and Paul Branco cracked a two-out shot to left-centerfield. The hit would have scored one, and possibly tied the game, but Andover centerfielder Dana McCann came out of nowhere to make a running, sliding spectacular run-saving, inning-ending catch.

The Americans added an insurance run in the bottom of the fifth, Rick Mendez' RBI single rescuing McCann who had doubled.

Rick Sachetti and Finnegan singled in the Chelmsford sixth, but Jacobson bore down to escape the jam. McGovern and McCann led the Andover attack with two hits apiece.

Andover American, 8-4

Rick Mendez (1-0) tossed a seven-hitter, walking five and whiffing six, and the Americans snapped a 3-3 tie with two runs in the third and three in the fourth inning against Chelmsford Lupien.

The locals notched their first three runs in the second when Robert Derba walked, Ken Oppenheim singled, Tim McGovern loaded the bases by beating out a bunt single, Brian Tisbert walked to force home a run, and Mendez whacked a two-out, two-run double.

In the third Tom Tanin walked, Ryan Jacobson singled, the pair worked a double steal, and Oppenheim drilled a clutch two-run single.

In the fourth Dana McCann walked, Mendez walked, Tanin ripped a two-run double, he moved ahead on a wild pitch, and Derba hoisted a sacrifice fly.

Shortstop Brian Tisbert and leftfielder Jeff Pothier led another solid American defensive effort.

Andover American, 10-5

Southpaw Ryan Jacobson (3-0) and reliever Dana McCann (2-1/3 innings) combined for a five-hitter, and the Americans built a 9-0 lead through 3½ innings en route to the district title last Sunday night under the lights in Tewksbury.

The champs took a 2-0 lead in the second when Robert Derba walked, advanced on a wild pitch and scored on Ken Oppenheim's single. Oppenheim stole second and trotted across on Brian Tisbert's single.

Keying a five-run third were Robert Derba's two-run homer to straightaway centerfield, his first of the tourney, and RBI doubles by Tom Tanin, Ryan Jacobson and Jeff Pothier. Rick Mendez and Tim McGovern added singles.

The lead jumped to 9-0 in the fourth when Rick Mendez doubled, Tanin laced another run-scoring single, Jacobson spiked a single, and Derba ripped an RBI double.

Fitts broke the shutout with three runs in the bottom of the fourth, a single by losing hurler Matt Medeiros sandwiched around four walks.

Andover collected its final run, unearned, in the sixth when Derba reached on an error and eventually crossed on Ken Oppenheim's basehit.

Greg Kay's two-run single in the Chelmsford half of the stanza completed the scoring.

The Americans once again played excellent defense.

Third baseman Oppenheim initiated a crisp 5-4-3 doubleplay in the first inning, the around-the-horn twin-killing completed by McGovern and Mendez.

In the second stanza the frisky American third baseman dove to his right to knock down a shot headed over the bag, rose to his knees and threw out a runner at second base.

Dana McCann, who made a fabulous run-saving catch against Fitts in their first meeting, burned Chelmsford again by gunning down a runner at third base to kill a potential rally. McCann ran down a ball that two-hopped off the fence, firing an in-the-air strike to Oppenheim who tagged the Chelmsford player trying to advance from first to third on the hit.

Tanin, Oppenheim, Mendez, Jacobson and Derba paced the District 14 kings' 13-hit barrage with two hits apiece.

to-the-wall march from the loser's bracket with an 11-2 romp over Chelmsford at Obdens Field in Tewksbury.

This one was decided early as the locals erupted for six runs in the second stanza. It was 9-0 before Chelmsford tallied twice in the sixth.

Righthander Tim Caverly worked five shutout innings en route to the pitching win, striking out six and walking only one.

Peter Murphy mopped up by hurling the final two frames.

Andover's pivotal second inning started with a walk to Caverly. Brian Hussey reached on an error, Chris O'Connell beat out an infield hit to load the bases, and Ricky Crispo walked to force home a run.

Ryan Moynihan's infield single chased home another run, and the next three came across after consecutive errors on balls hit by Dave Charland, Murphy and Pat Walsh. Caverly then singled home the sixth run.

Andover added two more in the fifth and two in the sixth.

Laedoff batter Ryan Moynihan finished the contest 2-for-3 with three runs scored, while Morris was 2-for-2.

Andover Juniors, 4-3

Andover broke open a 1-1 game with three runs in the top of the fourth, then hung on to capture its fifth straight tourney triumph at previously-unbeaten Billerica's expense.

This Andover victory in the championship round forced last Sunday's winner-take-all District 14 final.

Once again righty Tim Caverly was the winning pitcher, authoring six innings of seven-hit ball. He walked three and whiffed three.

Pat Walsh was the closer, permitting one hit, fanning one and escaping a bottom-of-the-seventh jam.

Hard-luck loser Ed Wiitala went the route with a seven-hitter for Billerica.

Andover drew first blood in the top of the second when Brian Hussey doubled and Chris O'Connell singled.

Billerica tied it moments later on consecutive singles by B.J. Marinello, Justin Auger and Dennis Candelora (RBI).

Andover loaded the bases in the fourth on a Caverly single, a Billerica error enabling Hussey to reach safety, and a wk to O'Connell.

Ryan Moynihan then delivered a two-run single, and when Peter Murphy's grounder was misplayed the eventual winning run crossed.

Billerica got one back in the home half when Adam Nowicki walked, stole second and rode home on Auger's single.

In the Billerica seventh Jon Delisle singled, stole second and scored on an error to make it 4-3. He ultimately advanced to third base with two down, and the game ended when Colin Murphy's long flyball to deep straightaway centerfield was corralled by Chris O'Connell.

Ryan Moynihan again went 2-for-3 while Caverly, Hussey, O'Connell and Matt Marvin contributed basehits.

Billerica, 6-4

The Andover 13's courageous run was finally short-circuited in the championship final, after five straight wins in the loser's bracket.

Jon Delisle (3-0) went the distance for Billerica, the reigning titlist, spacing seven hits, walking three and whiffing three.

Matt Marvin and Peter Murphy did the hurling for Andover, combining for a seven-hitter as well. They issued four walks and fanned three.

Billerica collected two runs in the second and single tallies in the third, fourth, fifth and sixth. Andover countered with singletons in the first, second, fourth and fifth.

In the Andover first lead batter Ryan Moynihan singled, stole second and third base, and raced across on Peter Murphy's RBI single.

Chris O'Connell was safe on an error and scored on another misplay in the second, but Colin Murphy of Billerica tied it 2-2 by spanking a pinch-hit two-run single in the home half of the inning.

B.J. Marinello's RBI single gave Billerica a 3-2 advantage in the third, but Andover tied it in the top of the fourth.

Gold Extends Win Streak

By Rick Harrison

Andover Gold stretched its win streak through six games, and moved within one-half game of second place and a first-round playoff bye, as it registered three more victories last week over Wilmington (9-4), Stoneham (15-1) and Winthrop (2-1).

AG thus entered the final week of regular season play with a 9-5 overall mark, a four-game tester than won't be easy as Gold faced intra-town archrival Andover Blue, North Andover (last night), North Reading (tonight) and the Reading Y's Men (Saturday, 10 a.m.)

All four games are on the road.

Andover Gold, 9-4

Undefeated righthander Mike Famiglietti (2-0) tossed his second consecutive complete-game victory for Gold, yielding just six hits, striking out seven and walking four at Wilmington's North Intermediate School field.

Famiglietti, whose only bad inning was the fifth when he surrendered all four Wilmington runs and five of their six singles, had a no-hitter going into the fourth before varsity player Bob Fleming ripped a clean single to leftfield.

AG, which banged out 10 hits, grabbed a 3-0 lead in the first with the help of five walks to Danny Hansbury, Matt Daniels, Rick Saggese and Scott Halecki.

Jim Hanning's RBI single was the only hit of the inning, and Mike Daley contributed a run-scoring fielder's choice.

The winners added three more in the second stanza, which opened with a sharp single to centerfield by Jim Landry and an RBI double by Mike Sullivan.

Danny Hansbury drew the second of his three walks, both runners advanced on a wild pitch, Sullivan scored on Saggese's sacrifice fly, and Hansbury raced across on a single by Mark Hopkinson.

Gold made it 8-0 in the top of the fifth as Saggese singled, Hopkinson singled, Daley's infield out plated Saggese, and Hanning ripped an RBI single.

After Wilmington sent 10 men to the plate in the fifth, scoring four runs and leaving the bases loaded, Gold and Famiglietti settled down to retire the Wildcats without incident in the sixth and seventh.

AG's final tally came in the seventh when Danny Hansbury walked, took second on Todd Murray's bunt and scored on a two-out single by Hopkinson.

Mark Hopkinson led the assault with three hits, two RBI and two runs scored. Jim Hanning went 2-for-3 with two ribbies, and Rick Saggese scored twice and collected one RBI.

Singles which didn't figure in the scoring were smacked by Scott Halecki and Andy Brown.

Defensive standouts for Gold were Hopkinson at shortstop (four assists), Hanning with a diving catch in centerfield, Scott Halecki at second base (four putouts, two assists) and catcher Matt Daniels who threw out another would-be basestealer.

Andover Gold, 15-1

Gold's 15-1 thrashing of Stoneham at Stoneham High brought it closer to second place, and avenged the lone AG loss (8-7) over the last eight games.

Lefthander Scott Eggert (3-2) made it seven straight route-going performances for Gold pitchers, scattering five hits and coming within one strike of a shutout.

AG batted around in the first, notching four runs after two were out. Danny Hansbury reached on an error, Rick Saggese walked, Mark Hopkinson delivered a bad-hop RBI single, Mike Daley walked, Jim Hanning walked to force home a run, and two baserunners crossed on wild pitches.

Gold batted around again in the six-run second inning, loading the bases on walks to Mike Sullivan, Matt Daniels and Saggese. Mark Hopkinson looped an RBI single to leftfield, Mike Daley walked to force home a run, Jim Hanning lashed a two-run single, Scott Halecki's fielder's choice rescued a run, and Scott Eggert capped the rally with an RBI single.

The victors collected two unearned runs in the third as Sullivan reached on an error, Todd Murray singled, Matt Daniels' fielder's choice plated Sullivan, and Daniels later crossed on an error by the Stoneham catcher.

In the Gold fourth Sam McLellan was safe on an infield error, Scott Eggert singled and Murray spiked a two-run single.

Mike Famiglietti singled home the final run in the fifth after walks to Rick Saggese and Andy Brown.

Todd Murray finished 2-for-2 with two RBI, Mark Hopkinson went 2-for-3 with two RBI and two runs scored, Scott Eggert was 2-for-3, Rick Saggese 1-for-3 and three runs scored, and Matt Daniels scored three runs.

Mark Hopkinson played another strong game at shortstop with four putouts and three assists, Mike Daley made a fine defensive play at third, and Gold gunned down a runner at third on a perfect relay from centerfielder Jim Hanning to Hopkinson to late-game third baseman Mike Famiglietti.

Andover Gold, 2-1

Lefthander Jim Hanning (4-2) won his third consecutive game, pitched Gold's eighth successive complete game, and was in command throughout as AG nipped Winthrop at Andover High.

The victory gave AG a split of the season series and avenged the locals' worst defeat of the year (14-1).

Hanning stopped Winthrop on five singles, walked only two and whiffed five.

Flawless defense behind him was also instrumental, and once again shortstop Mark Hopkinson and catcher Matt Daniels were the keys.

Hopkinson was busy with one putout and six assists, gunning down one Winthrop runner at the plate and another at third base.

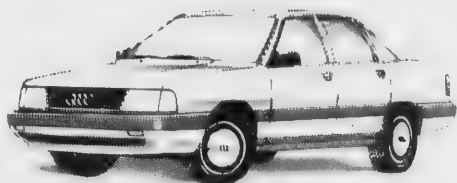

Daniels killed a potential Winthrop rally with a perfect throw to third, nailing a runner trying to advance on a low pitch that kicked away towards the backstop.

Scott Eggert contributed a sliding catch in rightfield, Mike Daley handled three chances at third, first baseman Rick Saggese had a great scoop of a low throw to complete a first-inning doubleplay, and Scott Halecki tied a world's record by snagging three straight popups in the second stanza (the last a running back-to-the-plate grab).

Colin Cash matched Hanning's five hit, cooling somewhat the white-hot Gold bats.

AG broke the scoreless deadlock with two runs in the bottom of the fourth.

Blue Completes Clean Sweep

Andover Blue completed a perfect 3-0 week with victories over North Reading 15-4, North Andover 6-1 and Winthrop 5-4. Blue improved its league-leading record to 14-1 and became the first team to clinch a playoff spot in the Suburban Pony League.

Andover Blue 15 - North Reading 4

Bob Sheehan won his first game of the year, giving up only two hits while striking out seven before giving way to Jeff Lembo in relief. Blue pounded out 17 hits as Paul Allard, Matt Harris and Josh Nelken each had three hits. Nelken drove in for runs and Sheehan had three RBIs. With two outs in the first inning, Hesenius on first and Brian Novelline at third, Hesenius got caught in a run down. Novelline broke for the plate and scored while Hesenius fought his way safely to second base. Harris got caught in a run down in the second inning with the same scenario; Nelken raced home safely from third and Harris made it safely to second. North Reading's delayed steal of home backfired in the fourth inning as Sheehan picked the runner off third and Ben Russell tagged him out at the plate. With two on and no one out, Blue crafted a big double play as rightfielder Toby Guzowski caught a hard hit line drive and doubled up the runner at first base. In the same inning Chris Sintros was robbed of an extra base hit on a line shot to right. Matt Wolcott beat out a dropped third strike and scored from third on a wild pitch. Other 13-year-olds showing promise were catcher Jon Iarrabino, who played well the last two innings, and Jeff Lembo, who pitched two innings of excellent relief.

Andover Blue 6

North Andover Chiefs 1

Blue came on strong in the late innings to defeat the North Andover Chiefs at Merrimack College in the first game of a doubleheader. Kevin Murphy scattered five hits as he pushed his record to 5-1. Murphy and Russell allowed no passed balls. This game was a scoreless pitchers' duel until the fourth inning when Brian Novelline singled to left and raced to third as the ball was mishandled. He scored on Hesenius' long sacrifice fly. In the sixth, Harris singled to right, Novelline singled to left and Hesenius smashed a double to center scoring Harris. The Chiefs closed within one run in their half of the sixth. Blue pulled away in the seventh, scoring four runs on key hits by Sheehan, Harris and Hesenius. Hesenius finished with four RBIs and Harris had two. Outstanding defensive plays were turned in by Nelken who ended the third inning by picking up a deflection off Murphy's glove to save a run. Murphy made a running catch of a foul popup in front of the Andover bench.

Andover Blue 5 - Winthrop 4

Winthrop quickly jumped in front 2-0 in the second game of the doubleheader before Blue roared back to take a 5-2 lead and held on as Winthrop had the tying run at second with one out in the seventh. Chris Lembo started and earned his third victory with strong relief help from Sheehan and Hesenius. Nelken, Hesenius, Andy Novelline, Lembo and Brian Novelline led the offense. Hesenius made a great running catch down the leftfield line; the infield turned a 4-6-3 double play in the fifth and centerfielder Paul Allard made an outstanding game-saving diving catch of a smash in the seventh.

Looking for a great place to spend your summer?

WHAT COULD BE BETTER than a summer on the open road? A summer at the wheel of the classic open roadster, the Mercedes-Benz 560SL.

So come in for a test drive. Put the top down, roll down the windows, and head for the highway.

You'll have a generous measure of V-8 power to help send you on your way.

An uncommonly civilized degree of comfort and luxury and leather and wood to coddle you. And one of the most advanced safety systems in the world to protect you.

Down The Years

25 Years Ago — July 1964

Town officials are trying to "find" $900 to $2,000 for a water main in the dump.

After a brief discussion Monday night, attempts to locate sufficient funds for the project were referred to Town Manager Richard Bowen and Public Works office manager Calvin Metcalf. The latter thought there might be enough money in the dump account to pay for the materials.

The Selectmen voted some time ago to have a water line installed. But there has been some difference in opinion over what size line it should be, and whether a hydrant is necessary also. Cost of installing a six-inch main, with hydrant, from the line at the entrance to the dump is about $2,000.

The Lawrence Gas Co. is being asked by the town to move gas mains which are in the way of sewer installations.

Supt. Donald Bassett brought the matter to the Selectmen's attention Monday night. He said some difficulty is being experienced in areas where the gas mains must be moved.

A near-drowning several years ago turned potential tragedy to joy at the Hampton River outlet July 15. Five young people, who almost drowned in a ripping, swirling current, are alive this week because a polio-crippled lad learned to swim, after he himself had nearly drowned at the same point.

Among the five are Kimberlee and Robin Brown, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. William Brown, 181 Elm st. Two more are Fred and Maureen Hewett of Methuen, children of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hewett. Unidentified is one young girl and her brother, who is as close to a hero as most of us will ever know.

The five children were only knee-deep in the ocean, near the Hampton River outlet. suddenly one wave, with a swirling, irresistible under-current, took all five off their feet.

"No favoritism, but fairness." That's Selectman William Stewart's pledge, as the Board considers Sidney P. White's request for a gravel pit on land off Argilla Road.

In response to a query from the School Building Committee, the Selectmen have sent a progress report on land acquisition efforts connected with the new high school.

10 Years Ago — July 1979

At last week's school committee session, Stephen Hallee, media technician, was reappointed for the coming school year at a salary of $11,660, while Joseph Balsamo and Maxine Calt were reappointed music accompanists at $12 and $15 a day respectively; and Claus Dengler, community resource coordinator, $18,326.

North Reading was supplied water during May and June by Andover as the neighboring town continues to face supply problems incurred through contaminants in wells.

Andover supplied approximately $3,000 worth of water during May and another $1,300 in June.

North Reading and Andover officials are currently studying a report on the former's water problems and the continued reliance on Andover as a source.

Gets Grant

Northern Essex Community College in Haverhill was awarded a United States Department of Education: Student Support Services Program Grant for the ninth consecutive year.

The grant, totaling $104,529, is to be used in developing a program to assist 200 students who are low-income individuals, first-generation college students or physically disabled.

The program will be administered through the Northern Essex Academic Support Center and will supplement the center's existing services.

The program, which begins Sept. 1, is designed to encourage increased rates of excellence, retention and graduation among disadvantaged students.

Owner Tina LaCreta with Brittany, a Cairn Terrier

Happy Tails

In September Happy Tails owner Tina LaCreta will celebrate two years in business in Andover. Due to the growth of her business and her excellent reputation in pet grooming, Tina has added an assistant, Laurie Young, who specializes in cat grooming.

Grooming is essential to cats as well as dogs, especially long hair breeds such as Persian and Himalayan. Short haired cats also need grooming to remove excess shedding of hair. Cat grooming consists of brushing, bathing, blow drying, clipping claws and cleaning ears. The skin is checked for signs of fleas and given a flea bath and dip, if warranted. Grooming adds to the health, comfort and happiness of your pet.

The hot, humid weather increases the flea problem among pets. To determine if your pet has a problem, watch for itching, scratching, black specks or little fleas near the head or tail. If you suspect fleas, call Happy Tails for an appointment as soon as possible so the pests do not spread further. Tina will give your pet a flea bath and dip and recommend a collar to prevent further infestations.

Happy Tails offers nail trimming walk-in service for $5.00.

Tina LaCreta is a member of the Massachusetts Association of Professional Dog Groomers. She is a part-time grooming instructor at the Pedigree Grooming School. She attends seminars regularly to remain current and learn the latest trends in grooming, obedience and health concerns for her clients.

Happy Tails is conveniently located at 7 Lupine Road, Andover. Hours are Tuesday through Saturday from 8:00 to 5:00. Telephone: 475-6860.

Town Signs Settlement With Bruk-Dearborn Developers

By Frank Messina

The last of the controversial comprehensive permit applications died a quiet death this week as town officials signed a settlement agreement with developers of the proposed Bruk-Dearborn subdivision.

Although the Planning Board hasn't reached a final decision on the project, enough obstacles were cleared during the planning process for Town Manager Kenneth Mahony to finalize the settlement Monday.

Instead of a 14- to 20-unit condominium development, four single-family homes will be built with six acres of land donated to the town as open space. The town also agreed to grant several waivers to zoning regulations.

The settlement has become possible over the past several months as the Planning Board determined other housing projects are routinely granted similar waivers, such as sidewalk paving.

Another vital issue was resolved when project engineers submitted a drainage plan that appears acceptable to the Planning Board. The plans were approved by the Conservation Commission last week.

The board indicated Tuesday night that they would vote on the Bruk-Dearborn definitive plan Sept. 12.

The settlement pact was announced earlier this year to heavy criticism from abutters, who felt the contract was a "back-room deal" that bypassed the Planning Board.

The project tied together the Bruk and Dearborn families, who own land between Elm and Summer streets.

The families first tried to take advantage of state "anti-snob" laws that allow bypassing of local zoning in exchange for affordable housing.

The Zoning Board of Appeals denied their comprehensive permit application, and a subsequent appeal was filed with the state Housing Appeals Committee where the case sat until Monday's agreement.

Foster Grandparents Program

The maximum number of children working with each volunteer is targeted at three. The ratio was kept small so that relationships could develop between the children and their "grandparents," Ms. Bachner said. The idea of individualized attention and instruction is consistent with the thrust toward mainstreaming special needs students, she said. The program provides the kids with instruction and emotional support.

"We'd like to see (seniors volunteering) eight to 10 hours each week, mainly for the consistency needed to develop bonds with each child," Ms. Bachner said.

Volunteers will be recruited and interviewed starting this month. Seniors interested in volunteering should contact Ms. Winn at the Andover Senior Center. Starting in September the volunteers will begin orientation workshops run by the staff of the Lowell school system. They should start their jobs at Shawsheen in early October, if everything goes according to plans, Ms. Winn said.

A biannual evaluation of the program will begin in January of next year. It will be compiled by the "grandparents" and participating teachers and presented to the school principal and the School Committee.

Collins Center

amining AEA policies, evaluating the auditorium rental fee structure and recommending ways the Collins Center can better accommodate the community.

In other related Collins Center business, Dr. Glen Gulezian and his wife, Paula, owners of API, have reached a contract agreement with Andover Endowment.

AEA Chairman Gerald Cohen announced last week that the two sides have reached a tentative agreement to continue the Gulezians' contract.

The Gulezians have previously signed two three-year contracts for managing the center. Mr. Cohen did not elaborate on the contract details but did say that it would not be a multi-year venture as in the past.
